Construction Update

You will notice that the Corral Farm Facility has become very busy in regard to construction. The new recycling area is graded and currently being paved. The transfer building area is graded and the footing system is being installed.

From the end of May through June, construction at the scale house and collection site will be completed.

Stay tuned for more updates, but if you have any questions or would like to see the construction plans, please contact the Environmental Services Office at (540) 422-8840.

Fauquier County Public School's Government Internship

Each term Fauquier County Environmental Services is pleased to host an intern from Fauquier County Public Schools. The students are enrolled in a high school Senior Government Internship Class. The students work a couple hours a day at their chosen Fauquier County Government Department. With this program, local government agencies and students join forces to implement service learning projects based on community needs identified by the departments.

Our intern this term, Felix Sava, is pictured here giving his service learning presentation. Felix worked on photographing our facilities to use for newsletters and social media. Felix also worked on trail development at Corral Farm. Environmental Services appreciates all Felix's hard work and wishes him well in his future endeavors.

DATES TO REMEMBER

- 6/3 - Household Hazardous Waste Collection

We do not inherit the earth from our ancestors; we borrow it from our children.

MEET OUR STAFF

Peggy Wang

If you have visited the Marshall Collection Site within the past 29 years, then chances are you have met Peggy. Born and raised in Fauquier County, she attended Fauquier High School, and enjoys spending her free time gardening.

Neither snow, nor rain, nor heat, nor gloom will keep Peggy from showing up to work with a smile and a caring attitude.

Fauquier County Public Schools Annual Recycling Poster Contest

Every year public schools in Fauquier County participate in their own recycling poster contest and then submit their winners from each grade to the county's recycling committee for judging. Students are encouraged to use their artistic abilities and imagination to design meaningful and interesting posters and art pieces made from recyclable content as a way of promoting recycling awareness and education.

This year, Sammy Leach, an eighth grade from Cedar Lee Middle School went beyond designing a poster and entered a piece of art made out of spray painted soda cans that resembled a John Deer tractor. Andrew Hupp, a seventh grader, also a student at Cedar Lee Middle School learned the art of welding from his father using scrap metal.

Congratulations to the more than 1,000 students for their entries and to the schools for their support of this annual contest.

Did you know...

...that recycled newspaper is available to purchase for Fauquier County residents? Old newspaper can be used as garden bed liner, packing material, disposable table cloths, and more. Come to Corral Farm Mon-Sat and for $1.00 you will receive 8 full grocery bags of newspaper to help tackle those summer projects in an environmentally friendly way.
